

NutriMilk

Delicious flavored milk beverage.
Fortified, with no added sugars
and lactose free.

When it comes to kids' health, many parents see dairy milk as a healthy choice¹. But nowadays, parents are more watchful about their kids' sugar intake and overall well-being. Around the world, most parents are keeping their kids healthy by boosting their immunity, improving fitness, and encouraging overall better eating habits. Interestingly, a big chunk—65%—of parents worry about their kids' immunity and development of their bones². This shows that parents pay more attention to all aspects of their children's health. These findings reveal that parents actively look out for their kids, doing what they can to keep them healthy and happy.
